

FEAR OF SHARKS WORSE THAN DEATH

British Captain Relates Horrible Experience in Harbor at Puerto Padre.

PICKED UP BY PASSING BOAT

Saw Steward and Second Officer Both Go Down to Their Deaths.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 27.—Captain Wallace, of the British steamship Carls-brook, now in this port, tells a thrilling story of the drowning of his second officer and steward in the harbor of Puerto Padre, Cuba, while the ship was recently there.

The captain and his two officers went ashore to get provisions for the ship.
Because of the shallowness of the harbor, the ship was far from the landing. In a small boat, at night, they were sailing back to the ship. A small upset boat the steward, who weighed about 285 pounds, sank. The captain, a strong swimmer, also said to be a good swimmer, clung to the upset boat. But the boat beginning to go down, Captain Wallace left it and swam around for a half hour, and when within two hundred feet of the shore he was picked up by a passing boat.

"It's no use, captain; I'm all in," and went down to his death.
Captain Wallace then swam for the coral reef, but he was not near enough to reach it. He secured one of the oars from the upturned boat, and then he swam for half an hour, and when within two hundred feet of the shore he was picked up by a passing boat.

The waters of Puerto Padre are infested with man-eating sharks, and the captain said, beyond the fear of drowning, was the horrible fear of being caught and eaten by the sharks. The agony he experienced during the night, he said, words cannot express.

Application Refused.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., April 27.— In Stafford County Court today the application of Lindsey G. Roach for a license to sell liquor at the Stafford end of the Free Bridge over the Rappahannock River, at this place, was denied by Judge Mason. The law requires that the application should be accompanied by a petition signed by a majority of the qualified voters of the district. Mr. Roach had the names of 133 of the qualified voters on his petition, giving him a majority of thirteen, but sixteen of these names were on the petition of the contestants. The Judge struck off the sixteen from both petitions, which left Mr.
Roach lacking four votes.

The Norfolk Association.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ONANCOCK, VA., April 27.—The Norfolk Association of the Norfolk and Anne Arundel churches, held its annual meeting at the Norfolk Hotel, Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. J. H. Estlin, of Norfolk, presided. About twenty clergymen were present. Business reports indicated successful work, and marked progress in many localities. The missionary meeting last night was largely attended, with Dr. J. H. Estlin, of St. John's Church, of Hampton, and Rev.
Joseph R. Dunn, of St. Paul's Church, of Suffolk, as the principal speakers.

Confirmation Services.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
AMHERST, VA., April 27.—Bishop A.
M. Randolph held confirmation services at St. Mark's Church, this county, this morning, and also preached and confirmed a class at Ascension Church, here last night. Quite a large crowd attended to-night, and enjoyed the excellent sermon preached by the Bishop.

Anti-Saloon League.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ONANCOCK, VA., April 27.—The annual meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of Accomack county was held, in the Baptist Church, yesterday. The attendance was large, and the work being done in the county was commended. The county is now without a liquor license. The principal address was made by Dr. A. W.
Young, the assistant national secretary.
Mr. Spencer F. Rogers was elected president, and Mr. Thos. C. Kellam, secretary.

Case Against Dunn.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 27.—The case of the Bolling Grocery Company, of Newport News, against R. G. Dunn and Company, commercial reporters, was called in the city Circuit Court today.
The Bolling Company seeks to recover damages in the sum of $30,000, alleging that they have suffered irreparable injury through the statements concerning it sent out by the commercial agency.

In Deadly Peril.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., April 27.—Stanley Newlin's coat sleeve caught in some machinery at the paper mills here today, and he was slowly being dragged toward revolving knives when fellow-workmen, alarmed by his cries for assistance, managed to rip the sleeve from Newlin's coat, saving his life.

COULD NOT REST NIGHT OR DAY

With Irritating Skin Humor—Whole Body Affected—Scalp Itched All the Time and Hair Began to Fall Out—Wonderful Result From

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am never without Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment since I tried them last summer. About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humor; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day.
A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out, but I continue to use the Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all dandruff out and scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on my face after shaving, and have found nothing to equal it. I will never be without it." D. E. Blankenship, RECOMMENDED TO ALL MOTHERS

"I have used Cuticura Ointment for chafing of infants, and as they grew older all skin diseases were given treatment with that and the Cuticura Soap.
I never found it necessary to call a doctor, as these Remedies are a sure cure, if used as directed. I am glad to recommend them to all mothers." Sincerely yours, Mrs. F. A. Kennard,

PRES. TUCKER IS NOW IN NORFOLK

Will Reside There Permanently While the Exposition is in Progress.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 27.—The Hon.
Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, has arrived here from Washington, D. C. He was in conference this afternoon with exposition officials.

Notwithstanding certain newspaper reports to the contrary, he is not here at this time to remain permanently, but will return to Washington in a few days to remain there while the exposition appropriation bill is before Congress. It is probable that both Mr. and Mrs. Tucker will come here early in the fall to reside until the exposition closes.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are at present guests of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Myers, on Freemason Street. Mr. Myers is the auditor of the Jamestown Exposition Company.

Deserter Arrested.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., April 27.— Colonel Potts, commandant of Fort Monroe, has been notified of the arrest of John S. Spencer, a former army sergeant, who has been badly wanted at the fort for eighteen months. Spencer was in charge of the post-exchange, and it is alleged that when he suddenly disappeared a large sum of the government's cash went with him. He was located in Jersey City, and is now behind the bars at Governor's Island. When brought back here Spencer will be tried on charges of embezzlement, desertion and false enlistment.

Interest in Election.

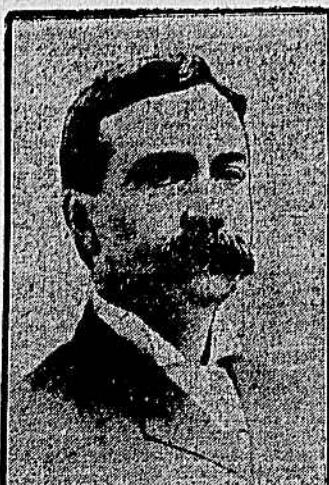

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., April 27.—Little or no interest is being manifested in the approaching municipal election, in which half of the members of the board of aldermen and common council are to be elected. The Democratic city committee has not yet adopted plans for the primary, which is to be held on May 6th.
Most of the present councilmen will offer again, and they will have little opposition.

Goes to Jury.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROANOKE, VA., April 27.—The Floyd Court held a session last night to argue the instructions in the Richards case. The argument was begun this morning.
About thirty witnesses were put on the stand at the closing hours yesterday.
The purpose of testifying to the character of this and that witness who had made statements in variance with each other.
The case will go to the jury to-morrow.

WILLIAM AND MARY'S NEW SCIENCE HALL.
This splendid building was formally dedicated yesterday with interesting exercises.

Professor of Natural Science.

SET APART FOR WORK IN SCIENCE

New Hall at William and Mary College Dedicated Yesterday.

AN OCCASION OF INTEREST

Many Representatives From Other Institutions Present.
Two New Courses.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., April 27.—Today has been a gala day in Williamsburg.
All day long the college and grounds have been thronged with visitors from far and near to witness the dedication of the new Science Hall of William and Mary. The day was an ideal one, the cool breezes from the West being just sufficient to make the weather pleasant, and the occasion has been an enjoyable one to all.

The following distinguished men were present to represent the various sister institutions of the college:
Dr. Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. A. Tuttle, professor of biology at the University of Virginia; Dr. Bruce R. Payne, of the University of Virginia; Dr. R. B. Smith, professor of mathematics at Randolph-Macon College; President Boutwell, of Richmond College; Dr. Hazen, of the Medical College of Virginia; Dr. James Nelson, president of the Woman's College, Richmond; Dr. Messenger and Miss Rose, of the State Female Institute, of Farmville.

Brilliant Scene.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the exercises of the evening began in the college chapel.
The chapel and library were both crowded to their utmost extent. Music was furnished by Schmidt's band, of Newport News. The scene was brilliant and inspiring. Beneath the bright glare of the electric lights, with the portraits of the early professors of the college looking down from the walls, and added to this the sweet strains of music, caused the mind of the spectator to sweep back over the history of the grand old institution, which has furnished so many men famous in the history of our country, and then thought of the present great epoch in its affairs.

The exercises of the evening were opened by a short prayer from Dr. L. B.

Wharton, of the faculty. Dr. Tyler followed in a short address, explaining the different elements of a college, and in finishing introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Ira B. Remsen.

Dr. Remsen made a very entertaining address of about an hour's duration on "What Laboratories Are, How They Come to Be, and What Part They Have Played and Are Playing in the Affairs of Men." Dr. Remsen showed that the methods used by our ancestors were not laboratory ones, but rather philosophical. He showed, nevertheless, how important were the discoveries of the early scientists in the present day chemistry. It was also shown how the great discoveries of recent years were the result of laboratories. Dr. Remsen, in concluding, congratulated the college on its new science hall, and took his seat amid much applause, with the strains of "Maryland, My Maryland," floating up.

The rest of the speakers were introduced and made short addresses, in the following order: Dr. H. Tuttle, Dr. Boutwell, Dr. Hazen, Dr. Nelson, Dr. Messenger, Dr. Payne. The exercises were ended by a short address from Dr. Tyler.
After the exercises refreshments were served in an upper room of the college.
Exhibition of Work.

During the day the exercises were confined to exhibiting the apparatus and the work of the students in the various departments of science, biology and drawing and manual arts. The sight was an interesting one, indeed, to those unused to such scenes. The drawings of the students in the zoological and botanical departments were exhibited, and the visitors were allowed to see for themselves the wonderful microscopic views. In the art department, a pleasing sight indeed, met the eyes of the spectators. The work was arranged with the apparatus and the day Dr. Ritchie's entertained the visitors with stereoscopic views, composed of the wonderful botanical and zoological sights of the Philippines, where he spent last year. To-night a great reception was held in the college building.

Two New Courses.

The day has been a significant one in the history of William and Mary College. It has marked the formal opening of the two courses of biology and drawing and manual arts, just established here this year. The opening of these two courses is one of the steps in the long stride in progress that William and Mary College has made. The opening of the Science Hall, however, does not mean only that two new courses, but also that at least one has been greatly strengthened. The latter is the course in chemistry and physics.
In the new hall, the most elaborate laboratories have been fitted up, and approved with the most modern and approved apparatus for making practical demonstrations to the students. This puts them among the best in the State.

The course of physics and chemistry is of Dr. John W. Ritchie, a graduate of the University of Chicago, and drawing and manual arts, of Dr. R. M. Crawford.
Dr. Garrett has had charge of natural science for several years, but Drs. Ritchie and Crawford are both new members of the faculty. Both have distinguished themselves in their different branches of work.

The New Building.

The Science Hall, which has just been dedicated, is a large brick structure, built somewhat on the model of the main college building, without the wings. It has two rooms on the upper floor, and six on the lower. Five of the rooms on the upper floor are used by Dr. Ritchie for biology. The lower rooms are occupied by Dr. Garrett and his classes in physics and chemistry. Besides these, there are several smaller rooms to the building, and one dark closet, used for certain chemical experiments. One room on the upper floor has been handsomely fitted up, and is used for faculty meetings. All of the rooms are handsomely furnished with long rows of the most approved, comfortable seats. The hall was constructed during the latter part of last summer and the fall. It was completed just before Christmas, and the classes in science and biology have been occupying it since the first of January, but the furnishing has just been completed, and the faculty has delayed formally opening it until everything was ready. As yet the light system has not been fixed, but electric lights will shortly be put up, the electricity being procured from the college dynamo. The building has a perfect system of steam heat.

Assault and Battery.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., April 27.— Mrs. Cora Brown, executrix of the late George E. Brown, of Caroline county, has succeeded in the Circuit Court of Spotsylvania county against William Ware, a colored merchant, of this city, for $5,000 damages for assault and battery by Ware on her husband, the late George E. Brown, which she claims, caused the latter's death. Ware is now under an indictment in this city, charged with having caused the death of Brown, and will be tried on that charge in the Corporation Court here on May 4th.

Mr. Jones' Lecture.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Congressman W. A. Jones delivered in the Opera House here to-night a lecture on his trip to the Philippines with the Taft party last summer. The lecture was handsomely illustrated with one hundred of Burr McIntosh's stereoscopic views. A large audience listened to the entertaining and instructive lecture, with great enjoyment. Judge A. W. Wallace introduced Mr. Jones to the audience.
The proceeds were for the benefit of the People's Mission, a charitable institution of the city, which is managed by ladies, Mrs. J. B. Ficklen being the president.

iam C. H., of Amelia county; Mr. A. Cudley Sydnor, a brother of the bride, with Miss Lucile Betts, of Richmond; Mr. John T.
Sydnor, of Crews, with Miss Courtney Beyl, of near Blackstone.

The bride was handsomely attired in pearl-gray voile, over tulle, with hat and gloves to match; carrying a bunch of gorgeous bride roses.
The bridesmaids were prettily dressed in white mull, carrying exquisite bouquets of white carnations.
After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Betts left for Norfolk, Baltimore, Washington and other Northern points.
After an extended tour the happy young couple will return to Richmond, where they will be at home to their many friends at No. 270 East Grace Street.
The popularity of the bride was attested by the numerous and costly presents, consisting of silver, cut-glass, etc.

TOBACCO GROWERS MEET AT BOYDTON

Representative Body of Men Present Were in Sympathy With Speakers.

BRAIN WORK WELL AS MUSCLE

Related Pathetic Instance of Woman With Baby Trolling in Fields.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BOYDTON, VA., April 27.—The Inter-State Tobacco Growers' Protective Association met here in the courthouse to-day.
A representative body of farmers were present, and in entire sympathy with the speakers.

Senator Thomas, of Lynchburg, was the first speaker. He said if the farmers had success they had to work for it, and that they must work their brains as well as muscles. He urged the farmers to cooperate, saying that co-operation had advanced in all lines of trade further than it had done in farming. He illustrated the work of the tobacco, wheat and other crops, and said while the farmers of to-day were striking at old methods of individually they should instead be acting together as a unit. He said that co-operation was a power, and that the farmers were masters of the situation if they would only exercise their power. He advocated the plan of farmers having their own agents and factories.

S. C. Adams, president of the association, also spoke. He spoke with great vehemence, and said that men ought to get higher they would kick and strive to do so. He spoke with much warmth of the oppression of the tolling masses, telling in pathetic tones of the sacrifices made by them. He spoke of one instance where he said he had seen the baby lying under the shade of a tree in order that the mother could work the crop.
And then
